

ReBounce ReCycle Inc. is a one of a kind no charge retrieval service for foam underlay recyclable materials.

Never before have Calgary Floor Covering Companies been able to effectively reduce their waste management costs AND save the Environment at the same time.

ReBounce ReCycle Inc. has initiated a one of a kind retrieval and recycling program for all foam underlayment products in Calgary. This new, no charge retrieval service is a business with enormous potential and a growing list of customers. The service itself costs carpet installation companies nothing to put in place and nothing to maintain. This unique diversion program for foam products is accessible and affordable to participate in, and is great for the environment.

Having experienced environmental allergies in a previous position, Bobby-Jo Carswell, President of ReBounce ReCycle Inc, has become devoted to developing a program to help Calgary become a healthy, clean and environmentally friendly city to live in.

An entrepreneur at heart, Bobby-Jo saw the potential for a new service when she realized that there were no retrieval recycling programs for foam underlay products in Calgary. This realization, combined with the knowledge that local landfills are overflowing with waste and costs to dump were becoming unaffordable, lead her to begin reduction efforts immediately. ReBounce ReCycle has quickly gained support and recognition throughout Calgary.

By building eco-friendly routes, promoting the benefits of recycling, and even providing eco-bags to participants, Bobby-Jo has utilized her entrepreneurial skills to launch her business and benefit the environment. "Forward Movement with Impact" says that we are all doing our part to help save the planet. This is the mandate that her company practices daily and will continue to practice in the future.
